BVI AIRWAYS FIRST JET SET TO ARRIVE IN THE VI

Road Town, Tortola – BVI Airways today has announced that its first BAe Avro RJ100 regional four engine jet, the Spirit of the Virgin Islands, will be arriving in the territory at the end of this week for customary and usual flight demonstration and ground personnel training. The on-Island process is one of the final steps of the UK regulatory process.

Jerry Willoughby, CEO of BVI Airways, expressed, "We're extremely pleased to be back in the BVI, and rapidly moving toward initiation of the game changing non-stop service from Beef Island, Tortola to Miami, Florida."
